New York City (October 14, 2015) – David Barrett Partners is pleased to announce it is celebrating the firm's ten-year anniversary along with the opening of its Hong Kong office. David Barrett Partners is delighted to welcome Philip Williams as head of its Hong Kong office. He has completed searches for senior investment, distribution, and business leadership roles in the Asia region for traditional and alternative investment firms. He shares the firm's collaborative style and is an excellent fit with its client centric, transparent approach to search execution.

10 YEARS OF DEDICATION

In David Barrett Partners' line of work, as in the investment business, success begins with people. The firm was founded in New York ten years ago by a team of investment management recruiting industry veterans from large global firms who were drawn to the notion of establishing a focused investment and wealth management boutique, intent on best serving clients by aligning interests. Achieving the goal of building a global boutique hinged on partnering with accomplished and like-minded professionals; and each partner is proud of the team they have assembled.

BOUTIQUE WITH GLOBAL REACH

David Barrett Partners' London office, opened in September 2009, is led by twenty-year industry veterans, Tory Hyndman and Marcus Hanbury. Their team, including Nick Huggett and Harriet Hyde, serves clients in the UK, Europe and the Middle East.

Last year the firm announced the opening of its Boston office, which now includes founding partner Anne Keyser, John Knapp and Bob Gorog who combined have over forty-five years of investment management search experience.

Now, with the addition of Philip Williams and his Asia market experience, the firm significantly enhances its ability to serve our global clients and better access talent globally.

The New York headquarters consists of five recruiters, including three of the founding partners David Barrett, Darryl Adachi and Ted Kister, as well as Adwoa Taylor and Elizabeth Havens, bringing the combined firm experience to over 180 years of global buy-side recruiting.

The launch of the Hong Kong office is an important step in realizing the goal of being the only boutique search firm exclusively dedicated to investment and wealth management recruiting with a true global footprint.
